FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

E-PACK US 2025 to Lead with Collaboration, Efficiency and Sustainability

(ATLANTA, GA) – January 13, 2025- Smithers, a leading provider of testing, consulting, events and certifications, is hosting the E-Commerce Packaging US (E-Pack) conference in Atlanta, Georgia, from June 5-6, 2025.

As a rapidly growing industry, this event was created to help make sense of the evolving e-Commerce packaging landscape and take advantage of emerging opportunities throughout the supply chain.

This year's event will concentrate sessions on sustainable packaging, reuse and recycling habits, emerging technologies, optimizing inefficiencies and embracing corporate social responsibility. Speakers from The Paper and Packaging Board, Dow, H.B. Fuller, Returnity, the Ocean Conservancy and more will share their critical insights with attendees.

Additionally, E-Pack US will take place just after the Smithers Digital Print for Packaging (DPP) event, taking place June 2-4 in Atlanta, Georgia. Attendees can attend two events in one place with each event garnering an international delegation of 200+ industry thought leaders. Learn from tailored sessions targeting each area of the value chain and network across sectors to make the most of your time out of the office.

As a partner for our event, readers receive 10% off their ticket with code EPACKUS25FP. For more information, or to register for the event, visit: <https://www.ecommercepacksummit.com/us>.
